

We did it!

Last year 92 Pro-life Lutherans gathered for our first-ever time together for the PA March for Life. We DOUBLED the number of Lutherans in attendance and UNITED together under one banner.

And we did it with blue hands.

As we walked, the heavy rain disintegrated our signs. We extended hands to say goodbye to new friends only to apologize about the sparkly blue colors on them.

“Don’t worry, my hands are blue too!”

Those blue hands were a sign of solidarity, and in good Lutheran fashion, a picture of the washing of baptism. We extend our reach to others, having ourselves been reached by Christ, desiring all to reach the age to be baptized also.

Let’s do it again!

Maybe without the blue hands?

What is your part?

Will you forward the email to a few interested persons today?

Will you put the date in your church’s calendar?

Will you await our mailing and a personal phone call in the next weeks?

Come with your family, church family—young, youth, adult, and old and march with us on September 22. We’ll be calling you!

In Christ,

Dr. Chris Seifferlein—Mount Calvary LCMS-Lititz
