

We read in Galatians 6:9, “Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up.”

Becoming weary is a common condition: hanging on until graduation or vacation, enduring a season of loss or losses—but in any event, we know some harvest time will be coming. The question is “What will the harvest bring?”

Paul’s admonition before harvest time is a timely reminder of the need for steadfastness with our Mission 1-1-1 weekly giving and communications.

It seems that Paul knows what human nature will do: we can become complacent when faced with the need for constancy. The answer: do not give up.

Let’s keep up the energy and enthusiasm behind Mission 1-1-1, always mindful of for Whom we are working. Colossians 3:22-23 reminds us, “Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart as working for the Lord...it is the Lord Christ you are serving.”
